OPERATIONS

The majority of Canaf's earnings are underpinned from its well-established anthracite beneficiation (calcining) business that supplies bespoke carbon reductants to the ferroalloy industries in South Africa. Canaf operates via its black empowered subsidiary and is fully committed to various social development, enterprise and learnership programs. Canaf plans to continue to allocate a large portion of its free cash-flow to further growing its real estate, capital and possible new divisions as it further establishes its presence in South Africa.
